Fairmount Center for the Arts Winter Warm Up Day – Free!

Novelty, Ohio – December 13, 2018

Fairmount Center for the Arts is offering a free, family-friendly morning of arts fun. On Saturday, January 12, from 10am-12pm, all are welcome to come in and explore the arts.

This fun-filled morning of activities will include mini-workshops exploring dance, yoga, music, theatre and creation stations to make art! Additionally, the Geauga West Public Library will be participating by providing storytelling sessions as well. Sweet treats and cocoa will also be provided at no charge.

This free community event provides an excellent opportunity to stop in and explore the arts. Information about Fairmount's winter/spring program session – which begins January 14 – will also be available.
