WHAT'S THE STORY BEHIND THE MUSIC?
Dear Fairmount Family,

It's time to fall into creativity at Fairmount Center for the Arts! As we celebrate our 53rd year of operation, we are excited to share a dynamic array of dance, fitness, music, theatre, and visual arts classes this season.

Sweater weather brings with it new classes for youth and adults, including the Fairmount Drama Club, Fairmount Youth Choir, and the Fairmount Singers for adults. We invite you to try out these programs and make new friends. Check out all the classes, workshops, and special events coming this fall in this catalog, plus pop up workshops listed on our website (FairmountCenter.org).

We are also thrilled to feature a mix of creative professionals in our next season of the free Pull Back the Curtain Speaker Series. Whether you’re interested in art, architecture, culinary arts, film, music, or theatre, there’s something for everyone! More details about the fall speakers can be found on page 6.

Faculty Spotlight:
Allan Licht, Piano & Voice

When not showing off his skills on our cover, Mr. Allan is an accomplished songwriter and performer. We sat down with him to learn more.

What’s your favorite part of being a teacher?
My favorite part of being a teacher is to help mentor and inspire future talent. There’s nothing quite as rewarding as watching someone reach their full potential.

Your song “Let Peace Rise Up” was recently named Best Song of the Month by SongwriterUniverse. What was your inspiration?
My inspiration for “Let Peace Rise Up” was born out of the George Floyd incident. I’ve always had a propensity for writing songs that make a difference in our society, but that incident certainly led me in the direction for writing “Let Peace Rise Up.”

You were recently selected as a voting member for the Grammys. What does that entail?
My status as now being a member of the Recording Academy means I can vote at The Grammy’s, nominate an independent artist for a Grammy, and numerous other honors.

What’s something you enjoy about teaching at Fairmount?
What sets Fairmount apart from other schools is the care and kindness from the staff. Yes, there is a standard of excellence, but most important is the feeling of community between staff, students and parents.

What’s your advice for someone just starting on their music journey?
My best advice is to have drive and perseverance, and to let your love of music or dance be your ultimate goal. None of us have control over what the future will bring, but we can control staying inspired by enjoying every minute of the journey.
